Notice

This document and the contents of it do not, and are not intended to, constitute an offer for sale or an invitation to treat offers to purchase any company, its shares, other securities or assets. For the avoidance of doubt there is no intention to create a legal relationship and such relationship will not come into existence unless and until a formal written contract, approved by respective solicitors, has been entered into. The information herein has been provided to Grant Thornton by the company's directors. All enquirers or prospective purchasers must carry out their own due diligence in respect of the matters referred to and satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of all matters. Whilst every care is taken in the preparation of this document and the information contained in it, we hereby give you notice that we cannot and do not accept any responsibility and/or liability for any loss or damage of whatsoever nature that may occur by reliance on it and howsoever arising.

Recipients should be aware that this document and specific information relating to the Company which may subsequently be sold has been prepared taking advantage of the exemption applying to the rules governing the issue of financial promotions set out in Article 62 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Financial Promotions) Order 2005, sale of body corporate. This is on the grounds that any sale of shares will constitute the sale of more than 50% of the shares with voting rights of a body corporate or that the object of the transaction may reasonably be regarded as being the acquisition of day to day control of the affairs of the body corporate and the sale is to be between parties each of whom is a body corporate, a partnership, a single individual or a group of connected individuals. It is an implicit assumption on the supply of this document that the recipient is either contemplating making an offer for 50% or more of the shares with voting rights of the Company or that the transaction will result in an effective change of control of the Company.
